

LEGISLATIVE WRAP-UP

Overview

As an organization dedicated to increasing the supply of safe, healthy and affordable homes, we are encouraged to see continued commitment from the General Assembly to address our state's housing needs.

Throughout the 2025 legislative session, the Housing Network of Rhode Island and Homes RI championed a slate of bills aimed at expanding housing production, streamlining development processes, strengthening tenant protections, and improving housing stability.

These wins, combined with key homelessness initiatives included in the FY26 state budget, are important steps forward as Rhode Island seeks to address its housing crisis.

We are deeply grateful to the many community partners whose advocacy efforts helped successfully pass these key policies and budget provisions this legislative session.

The Housing Network and Homes RI reaffirmed our policy priorities during a Legislative Event at the State House on May 13, 2025, with more than 60 people in attendance.

We look forward to working alongside legislators, state agencies and community stakeholders in the 2026 legislative session to continue to make Rhode Island a place where all its residents have access to safe, decent affordable housing.

Read on for more in-depth information about the many housing-related bills tracked this legislative session.

Our top five housing wins from the 2025 legislative session

1 Standardized tax assessments

We championed H-5698/S-499, which establishes standards for tax assessments of deed-restricted low and moderate income homes for sale. Thank you to the sponsors, Rep. Fogarty & Sen. McKenney.

2 Speaker Shekarchi's housing package

Ten bills in Speaker Shekarchi's package of housing legislation have been signed into law. We were especially proud to have championed H-5801/S-1088 to encourage more affordable housing development across Rhode Island.

Details on these bills and budget provisions are provided on pages 3-8 of this report.

3 Budget provisions for housing and homelessness

The FY26 budget created a new, dedicated funding stream for housing and homelessness initiatives. It also increased the real estate conveyance tax on high-value properties, allocating revenue to the Housing Resources and Homelessness Fund and Housing Production Fund.

4 Housing and Conservation Trust Fund

H-5310/S-711 restructures and revives the Rhode Island Housing and Conservation Trust Fund. Co-championed with the Rhode Island Land Trust Council.

5 Immigration status protections

We supported H-5674/S-275, which prohibits a landlord from inquiring about the immigration status of a tenant subject to any federal laws or regulations, but may request financial information or proof of identity.

BUDGET HIGHLIGHTS

FY26 Housing & Homelessness Provisions

The Housing Network and Homes RI are grateful for the critical provisions to support homelessness initiatives included within the Fiscal Year 2026 State Budget. With Federal State Fiscal Recovery Funds (SFRF) spending winding down by the end of 2026 and growing uncertainty surrounding future federal housing support, Rhode Island must strengthen its state-level investments to meet its urgent housing needs.

The voter-approved $120 million housing bond from November 2024 offers a vital opportunity to expand the availability of long-term affordable homes. This year's budget expands on existing revenue streams for supporting homelessness services and shelter bed capacity by increasing the real estate conveyance tax, establishing a hotel tax on whole-home short term rentals, a high value home tax and dedicating general revenues to homelessness initiatives.

Rep. June Speakman, Charlie Thomas-Davison (Women's Development Corp.), Colin Penney (South County Habitat for Humanity), Melina Lodge (HNRI), Joseph Garlick (NeighborWorks Blackstone River Valley) and Christian Belden (Church Community Housing Corp.) celebrate the launch of Community Development Month on April 8, 2025.

We know that state leaders faced difficult choices amid tight fiscal constraints, competing priorities, and uncertain federal support, and are so appreciative that the FY26 budget acknowledges the importance of sustained investment in housing and homelessness services. The work is far from over, but we're inspired by the continued progress we have seen over the last five years and thank the General Assembly for their commitment to this issue. We look forward to working alongside legislators, advocates, and community members to build a Rhode Island where everyone can afford to live in the community of their choice.
